

IFS Parts Mapping Worksheet

Internal Family Systems — Getting to Know Your Parts

In IFS, we all have internal "parts" — subpersonalities that carry different feelings, beliefs, and roles. This worksheet helps you identify and build a compassionate relationship with your parts. Remember: all parts have good intentions, even when their strategies cause problems.

PART IDENTIFICATION

Part 1

Name or description of this part:

What does this part feel? (emotions)

What does this part say? (beliefs/messages)

Where do you feel this part in your body?

What is this part trying to protect you from?

Role: ☐ Manager ☐ Firefighter ☐ Exile

Part 2

Name or description of this part:

What does this part feel? (emotions)

What does this part say? (beliefs/messages)

Where do you feel this part in your body?

What is this part trying to protect you from?

Role: ☐ Manager ☐ Firefighter ☐ Exile

Part 3

Name or description of this part:

What does this part feel? (emotions)

What does this part say? (beliefs/messages)

Where do you feel this part in your body?

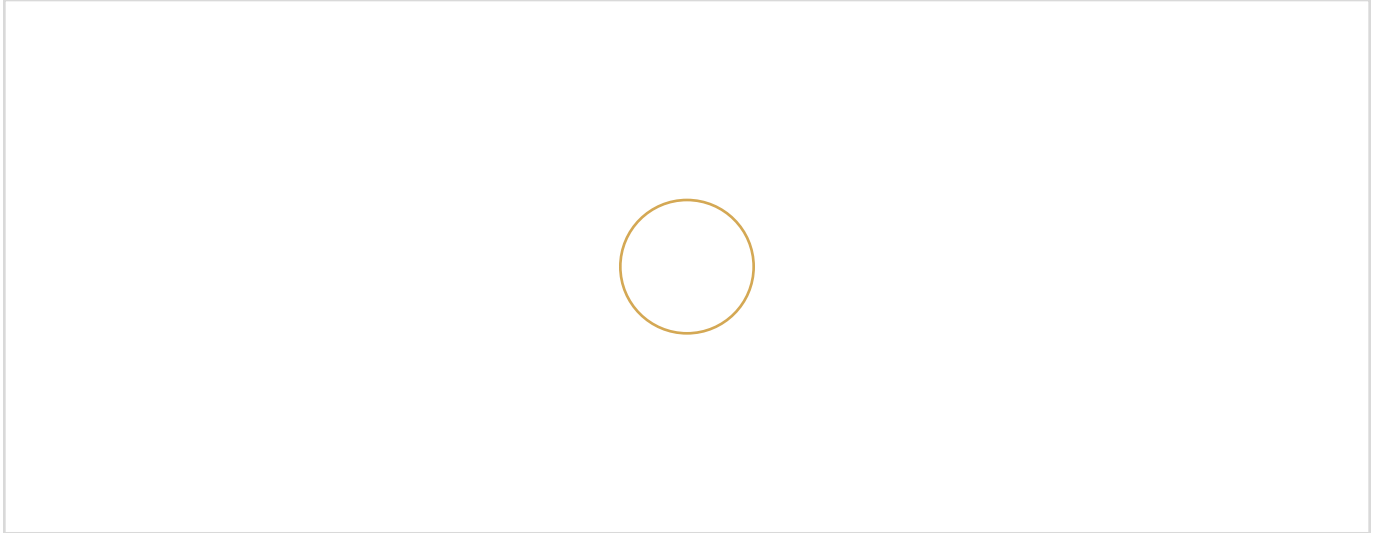

What is this part trying to protect you from?

Role: ☐ Manager ☐ Firefighter ☐ Exile

Parts Map & Self-Energy

YOUR PARTS MAP

In the space below, draw a visual map of your parts. Place "Self" in the center. Arrange parts around it — closer parts are more active, further parts are more hidden. Draw lines to show relationships between parts.

SELF-ENERGY CHECK-IN

The 8 C's of Self-energy. Rate your access to each quality right now (1-10):

Curiosity: _____

Calm: _____

Confidence: _____

Compassion: _____

Courage: _____

Creativity: _____

Clarity: _____

Connectedness: _____

Reflection: What part(s) would you like to get to know better?
